

Everyone has a place at school and the right to be included.

Autistic students can sometimes face barriers at school, including with friendship and connection. Here are five ways to be inclusive of Autistic students and their families:

Reach out and have respectful conversations

Respect their privacy

Show interest in their lives

Invite them to social events

Make
adjustments
for their needs

Interested in finding out more about inclusion?
Visit amaze.org.au for more information.

